MARVELOUS ENDURANCE.

A Nihilist Burns Himself to Death—
Sitting a Hole Through a Glass
Lamp—A Slow Death in Burning Oil.

From the New York Tribune.

Another remarkable suicide has taken place in Russia. A nihilist of wide prominence at Odessa, and a former student at the University, was recently arrested and thrown into a jail where he suffered so much from the filthy state of his cell that he burned himself to death rather than endure the torture any longer. Though he had been in the cell many months, it had not once been cleaned, and so vile were the odors given out by the accumulated refuse that he complained of suffocation, giddiness and fainting fits. He begged the keepers to clean the place or urge on his trial; but to no purpose. Still he implored for relief, and at last the governor of the jail, wearied with his appeals, ordered severe corporal punishment to be inflicted upon him and that his hands be tied behind his back with a stout rope. In that condition, and he had received, he was left alone stretched out on the sloping boards. That constituted his only bed. He was able after a struggle to get into a sitting position, and there contrived with his teeth to bite a hole through the glass which contained the oil in a burning lamp on a bracket above his head. The oil soon caught fire and the prisoner allowed it to run down over his body setting his clothes on fire. Without a cry or a groan he lay down in the flames to die. Soon the odor of his burning flesh brought officers to his cell, now filled with black smoke and flames. Not a word did the prisoner utter, but fixed his eyes coldly on the keepers, while they put out the flames. He assured the officers he should have been content to die on the scaffold for the sake of his opinions, but that the inhuman tortures of his cell he was unable longer to endure. His body at the surface had been entirely carbonized, but he lived three and a half hours after the flames were extinguished.

SMARTING FROM THE BLOW

What Lightning Did in a Church.

From the New York Tribune.

The morals deduced by the religious press do not invariably tend to the edification of the public. An English journal which subordinates secular to spiritual concerns relates an incident that recently occurred in the chapel of a mission church in South Africa. A heavy storm came on while one missionary was preaching and another was interpreting for him. The preacher was apprehensive lest the bald pate of his associate should attract the lightning, and accordingly breathed a short prayer that it might not be so. The good man had just repeated the words, "Suffer the little children to come unto me," when amid the deafening noise of thunder and wind there was a terrific crash and the preacher was felled to the ground, but not killed. A little child was sleeping in its mother's arms close by; the lightning struck him from its head to its feet, and after one gasp it was dead. As the religious journal puts the case, the prayer was answered and the bald-headed missionary was saved from destruction. The inference seems to be that Providence was bent upon killing somebody, but in order to accommodate the preacher, who was in pressing need of an interpreter, finally compromised on a poor little Hottentot baby.

A Race With Thumbs on Their Feet.

From the Chicago News.

Mr. Tremlett, the British Consul at Saigon, in his report this year, mentions as a remarkable peculiarity of the natives of the country, that they have the great toe of each foot separated from the others like the thumb of the hand, and can be used in much the same manner, though not to the same extent. This distinctive mark of an Annamite is not, however, usually seen in the vicinity of Saigon, but is new confined to the inhabitants of the northern section of the empire, where the race has remained more distinct. This peculiarity is the meaning of the native name for Annamites; and that the native name and peculiarity are of great antiquity, is shown by the mention in Chinese annals 2,300 years ago that for those of one of the "four barbarian" tribes that then formed the boundaries of the Chinese Empire.

An Ugly Man's Rage.

From the Forest News.

A singular case is to be tried in the Gilmer (Georgia) Superior Court next week. About a year ago a showman was exhibiting a trained monkey in that county. Among other tricks, the monkey had been taught to fire a pistol. The showman handed the animal a pistol, and told it to "shoot the ugliest man in the crowd." Some mischievous boys had put shot into the pistol, and when the monkey picked out his man and fired, the shot took effect, and slightly wounded the ugly man, who pulled out his knife, cut the monkey's throat, and whipped the showman. The monkey died next day. The ugly man is indicted.

RAISING THE MULLERS.

The Only Millman Who Was Ever
Known to Make Money by Doing So.

From the Lyon County Times.

The romance about the way in which General Winters is said to have caused the failure of Como and Palmyra Districts, in 1883-6, recently published, has reminded old-timers of the fact that Jim Morgan, the builder of the Morgan mill, at Empire, is the only man who was ever known to make money by raising the mullers in the pans. When Jim got his mill ready he found that he could not run over a third of it, the water-power being sadly inadequate, as there was only an eight-foot fall to run the forty-stamp mill. He therefore looked around for a purchaser. The Yellow Jacket Company being in want of a mill he got a committee appointed to visit it. On the day agreed upon Jim had everything in the best order possible, and stationed a man on the hill back of the mill to advise him of the coming of the "experts." The mill was then started in full, but the mullers were all raised about six inches, so that there was no friction whatever. The committee came, examined the premises thoroughly, and were so highly pleased that they accepted it on the spot. Jim got his pay, but the Yellow Jacket Company were compelled to put in a powerful engine to utilize their purchase, and the Morgan became a steam mill.

Fell From a Window During Sleep.

Young Cole, of Shurtleff College, played with the University Nine in a match game and was so utterly exhausted that when evening came he could not sleep. After tossing about in his bed for many weary hours he seated himself on a trunk by his bedroom window. The fresh air quieted and soothed him, and he soon fell asleep. When he regained consciousness he was lying on the ground and attempting to realize that he had fallen out of a window in the fourth story. His leg was broken, and his body was terribly bruised, but his wounds were not fatal.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Destructive fires and fatal casualties from coal oil explosions have been frequent of late. They result from carelessness in almost all cases. A woman was burned to death yesterday in San Francisco in attempting to feed a fire with coal oil. At Snohomish, Or., last Friday night the explosion of a coal oil lamp set fire to a hotel and a man was consumed in the flames. Lamp explosions are commonly due to the use of cheap oil and from allowing it to get too low in the lamp. Good coal oil is safe enough if carefully used. The idiotic practice of pouring oil on fires or into lighted lamps from cans it seeds useless to warn people against.

The bones of W. S. Bodie, who perished in a snow storm in 1859, were found last Sunday near the town of Bodie. He was the original discoverer of the mines in the district which bears his name.

Why Grant Went to Tahoe.

EDITOR, GAZETTE:—The excitement in Wadsworth over General Grant's reception in Reno, has suffered a gentle subsidence. Our band had really sober intentions of performing before the illustrious visitor on his arrival at the Reno depot. It was also reported that the Reno brass band would be present on that occasion. Whether the General heard of this, and escaped by way of Tahoe, is a mooted question; but one band had a healthy torture in store for him.

JEWELRY

Solid Abyssinian Gold Watch

FREE! FREE! FREE!!!

The above offer is genuine, although at first sight you would consider it impossible. We will explain. Since we first established our business here, March 1st, 1878, we have paid particular attention to the buying of Bankrupt and Auction lots of Jewelry and Watches, often buying at as low as one-tenth their value, and in no instance have we paid over one-sixth the manufacturers' price. Since starting we have always been able to dispose of these goods in Chicago and through our regular customers throughout the country at nearly regular prices, as fast as we could procure them, but owing to the large number of failures among the heaviest dealers and manufacturers throughout this and other countries during the months of June, July and August (the time when the jewelry business is stagnant), we have had an immense stock of the most desirable goods we have ever handled, and which we have bought at lower prices than ever before. In order to dispose of this entire stock in the most speedy manner possible, and make room for new ones which we shall continue to buy, we have upon the following novel plan, and at the rate of Five Dollars' worth for $1. For instance, on receipt of 50 cts. we will send you a watch, any fancy chain, or any article of $3.50; on receipt of $1. articles to the value of $5, and so on throughout the entire list. Below we give a list of the most valuable of these goods.
